Interior Mouldings

Whether building a new home, remodeling or just adding a few simple touches, you can transform any room into a signature statement with Pinelli interior mouldings from Universal Forest Products.

Pinelli mouldings are made from sustainable, plantation-grown Radiata Pine, a fast growing, medium-density softwood that is free of knots, holes and other blemishes. A pale yellow-brown in color, Radiata Pine mouldings have a straight grain with a relatively even and uniform texture making it easy to paint or stain. Pinelli mouldings machine and polish well and have good nail holding and gluing ability.

These mouldings are available in standard book patterns such as base, crown and casing profiles as well as interior and exterior door-frames. Pinelli-Universal can also custom mill profiles to your desired design specifications. All profiles come in a choice of solid, finger-jointed or primed.

No matter the project, Pinelli interior mouldings can be used to create distinctive and unique settings in every room of your home. Whether highlighting the edges of a room, or softening two interior surfaces, Pinelli-Universal mouldings will add custom decorator touches to any room.

Founded in 1998, Pinelli-Universal is a Mexican joint venture with Grand Rapids-based Universal Forest Products. UFP is the nation's leading manufacturer and distributor of wood and wood-alternative products for the D-I-Y retail home center, manufactured housing, site-built and specialty wood packaging industries.

Pinelli-Universal is the largest producer and exporter of moulding and millwork in Mexico and Central America, processing more than 3 million board feet monthly and exporting 95% of its production to the United States, Canada and Central America.
